

Regina Keith

Regina has 35 years experience of working, strengthening and managing maternal and child health services and systems. Specialist research and experience in technical advisory support on Health Policy development, Health Financing, Public Health and Health Promotion, Human Resources for Health, Sexual and Reproductive Health, Voice and Accountability, Monitoring and Evaluating health and nutrition systems and programmes. Instigation and management of Organisational change and development, strategic planning and health reform. Skills include: Project management, operational research, Health Policy, Health Financing, Health Systems Management including human resource management and motivation, Delivery of Health Services in Difficult Environments, Reproductive Health and HIV, Impact of Macroeconomic Policies on Health, Health financing in low income countries, International Health including Advocacy, Monitoring and Evaluation of health HIV and nutrition programmes. Teaching to MSc level in all subjects above including Food Security, Health Governance and Leadership, Nursing, Midwifery, Management of Tropical diseases. Professional degrees in Nursing, Midwifery, Obs and Gynae and Family Planning. Facilitator for Child to Child and PLA approaches and implementing social determinants of health, and health in all policies frameworks in low income and transition nations. Extensive network and particular strong skills in collaboration, networking, and partnership building. Global experience of bringing together NGOs and other key stakeholders together to work with WHO, UNICEF and Global Health Partnerships including the Global Fund to Fight AIDS Tb and Malaria (GFATM), GAVI (Global Alliance for Vaccines and Immunisations) and the PMNCH (Partnership for Maternal Newborn & Child Health).